

The Hofmann transcript and the back plate are not the same.

Only the characters in the red box are on the plate. The orientation is the same. Among the characters in the red box there are a few differences. One such is circled in blue.

There are characters on the plate that are not in this transcript.

The plate is taller than this transcript.

There is an elaborate border etched on the plate.

This plate unique among all the plates. All the rest have much smaller characters arranged in rows horizontally.

Characters in the seal are significantly different than what is on the plate.
